Queen Victoria Assassination Canard—Great Yacht Race—Prize Fight for the Championship in England—The European Situation—Accident to Count Bismarck—Affairs in Paris.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 24.—Official dispatches have been received at the Foreign office from Lucerne, Switzerland, giving the particulars of a story about the attempted assassination of Queen Victoria by Fenians. There is no truth in the report, as before published. An insane Englishman, by the name of Weed, was seen trying to enter the Queen's apartments, and was promptly taken care of.

Great interest is taken here in the race which is to come off to-morrow between the American yacht Sappho and the English yachts. The event is considered almost equal in importance to the famous international regatta in 1851. Four of the best and fastest yachts in the English squadron have been selected to compete with the Sappho.

A prize fight for the championship has been arranged between Harry Allen and Joe Goss. The last instalment of the stakes will be up this week.

M. Mayne, Minister of France, has made a report to the Emperor on the success of the last loan proposed by the Government. He says every good citizen should rejoice to see in this measure the most effectual means of maintaining and making it the source of prosperity to the Empire.

The Nova Scotia Question.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HALIFAX, August 24.—Parliamentary papers have been brought before the House which embrace a brief report of the delegates. All the papers were prepared in England, also the legal opinions of Sir Roundel Palmer and Vernon Harcourt. The latter differs widely from Mr. Wilkins' Constitutional arguments. The delegates submitted six questions. The answers are in substance as follows:

First. There is no limit to the powers of imperial legislation over a colony like Nova Scotia.

Second. The authority of the imperial legislature being absolute cannot in any legal sense be dependent on the consent of the colony.

Third—The preamble of the Union act is important as evidence that the imperial legislation did not intend to exercise extreme powers, but acted on the supposed consent of the colony. If the fact of such consent be disproved, that may afford a valid argument for repeal, but cannot affect the loyal validity of the statute.

The fourth question is embraced in the fifth and the same answer applies.

The fifth resolution of the Nova Scotia Legislature, in 1866, authorized the delegates to negotiate the union of all the Provinces, but gave no right to arrange a scheme leaving out New Foundland and Prince Edwards Island. This defeat would be cured by the subsequent ratification of the delegates acts by the Legislature.

Sixth. The imperial acts by the Legislature did not assume to extinguish the Constitution of Nova Scotia or impose a new form of government. Without consent to do so would be an extreme exercise of power.

State Bonds—An Explanation—Mission to Washington.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

COLUMBIA, August 24.—The Republican denies the recent report that the Legislature proposes to repudiate a class of State bonds and seize the assets of the State Bank, which are pledged to pay them. Only the profits of the bank are pledged to pay bonds, and the bank has no profits. The bonds are secure with or without the law. The law, if possible, strengthens them. The explanation of the matter is that the Legislature of 1865 appropriated the assets of the bank to foreign bondholders, depriving the bill holders of their prior claim. The present bill reverses that action and protects the bill holders as creditors of the State.

CHARLESTON, August 24.—Hon. James B. Campbell started for Washington to-day to present to President Johnson an address from the people of Charleston, setting forth the dangerous condition of the city, the inability of the civil authorities to preserve the peace if riots should arise, and announcing the determination of the white people to be moderate and avoid as far as possible any collision, and asking the President to provide for the protection of the city.

Being resisted in their attempt to effect an entrance, they drew their revolvers and fired, one of the shots striking George Hickey, the property man, in the leg, wounding him seriously. Another shot passed through the arm of a boy named Leslie Chamberlain and lodged in his left breast, causing a probably fatal wound. During the confusion Mr. Haskins, who was in full theatrical costume, escaped through the body of the house. Gen. Sheridan in Hot Pursuit of Indian Outragers—Rigid Course of Gen. Sherman Approved—Railroad Case.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 24, 1868.

SHERIDAN IN HOT PURSUIT OF THE INDIANS.

A dispatch from General Sherman was received at the War Department to-day, dated Omaha, August 21st, stating he had received further information from General Sheridan, who reported from Fort Harker that he was in hot pursuit of the Indians who had committed the murders at Solomon and Saline. General Sherman says that he has now ordered General Sheridan to drive the savages south of the Kansas line, and in pursuing to kill, if necessary.

General Sherman says: "This amounts to war; but, I hope, only on a small scale."

He further says: "The Sioux at the north remain quiet. If the President does not approve my action, notify me promptly; but I deem further forbearance with the Indians impossible."

This dispatch was communicated to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. General Mix, Acting Commissioner, submitted a report to the Secretary of the Interior, which has been sent to the War Department. He reports that he has received no official information in reference to the alleged massacre. He says the innocent should not suffer for the guilty; but that General Sheridan has the right to carry out to the letter his order so far as the guilty Indians are concerned, and adds, "those engaged in the murders should be punished and be taught a lesson immediately."

At a late hour this afternoon a dispatch was received from Superintendent Murphy to the Indian Bureau, in which he says he has received unofficial information that a Mrs. White and several others had been killed by a party of Northern Cheyennes and Arrapahoes. He will communicate the official facts as soon as received.

In view of all the facts, the President again informed Secretary Senefield that he approved the rigid course pursued by Gen. Sherman.

At a joint meeting of the colored citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny cities, convened in the A. M. E. Church, Thursday evening, August 20th, the following resolutions, commemorative of the life and character of the late lamented Thaddeus Stevens, were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has been the will of Providence to remove by death, on the night of the 11th of August, 1868, at the seat of government, the honored, great and philanthropic man, Thaddeus Stevens, member of Congress from the county of Lancaster, State of Pennsylvania, in the blessings of whose statesmanship the people now rejoice, therefore Resolved, 1st. That we have watched with anxious hearts the Congressional career of this great patriot and liberal statesman, and have ever found him so allied to the cause of Equal Justice and Human Liberty as to write his name in letters of love on the heart of every member of the proscribed race.

2d. That by all that is sacred to the love of Justice and the name of so distinguished a friend, we deeply mourn the loss of this noble man and uncompromising advocate of Human Liberty.

3d. That in the death of Thaddeus Stevens the country has lost one of her ablest and most earnest statesman, and the oppressed of the land a true and tried friend, whose heart has rightly been prepared for the crisis in which he lived, and who made a zealous worker in behalf of the lowly, whom he was ever proud to defend.

A Literary Enterprise.

The Pittsburgh Quarterly Magazine has taken place amongst the fixed and permanent literary institutions of the city, and the enterprising publisher, Mr. Wm. O'Dwyer, has consented to issue it hereafter as a monthly. This course will supply a want long felt in the community for a monthly literary journal, and we have no doubt the enterprise of the proprietor will be amply rewarded. The services of a corps of able contributors have been secured and the publication will be an exceedingly readable one. As before, Mr. J. Trainor King will edit the Magazine, and will continue to contribute his article on "Pittsburgh, Past and Present." Among the lady contributors will be Miss Carrie Bell Sinclair, a popular writer. A story by James Blair, Esq., of London, will be among the features, and there will be a series of biographical sketches of our leading men, with portraits. The magazine will be printed on excellent paper and inasmuch as new type have been ordered, we may anticipate the appearance of a journal which will reflect the highest credit to our city.

A Watch Thief.

A young thief named Robinson entered the residence of Mr. George Alexander, in Allegheny, a few evenings since and carried off a gold watch which was lying on the mantle in the parlor. The watch was afterwards found at the establishment of a pawnbroker in this city, where it had been left as security for the payment of a loan of twelve dollars by a man named Lloyd. Lloyd was arrested and the pawn ticket found in his possession. He says that Robinson gave him the watch and that he was unaware of the theft. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Robinson.

Correction.

In our report yesterday of the proceedings of the City Executive Committee we did not clearly express the action of the Committee in regard to the primary nominations, which was to this effect: A motion was made and carried recommending that said "nominations" be conducted in the same manner as that adopted at the recent "municipal nominations," and in case of any vacancies in the Election Board in any of the wards such vacancies shall be filled by the "members" of the "City Executive Committee" of said ward appointing persons to fill said vacancies.

Alleged Burglar Arrested.

On the 10th of July last the saloon of Joseph Lofink on Troy Hill was burglariously entered and about ninety-six dollars in money together with other valuable articles stolen. The Allegheny police obtained a clue of the supposed perpetrators of the theft and after a long watchful lookout officer Kingan succeeded in arresting the chap yesterday in the Ninth ward of this city. At the hearing he gave his name as James Sweeney. He was committed to jail for trial.

The prosecutrix resides on Irwin street in the Fourth ward, with Catherine Brown. She alleges that the accused came to the house on Sunday night and abused her by striking her several times.

Catherine Brown also made information at the same time and place, charging Dixon with disorderly conduct. He was arrested and held for a hearing on both charges.

Kicking Scrape.—Dennis McMullen made information before Mayor Blackmore against Patrick Rogan, Sr., for assault and battery. The prosecutor resides at No. 32 Miltenbergers Alley and the defendant on High street. Dennis alleges that Rogan, Sr., kicked his step son James Barr, several times. Dennis also alleges that he was kicked several times about the head and other parts of his body, by Rogan, Jr. The accused were arrested and will have a hearing to-day.

Mary and Norah.—Mary Williams and Norah McBride, residing at the Point, had a little misunderstanding yesterday. According to Mary's version of the affair, it commenced with words, proceeded to blows and ended with a brick, her head being the sufferer by coming in contact with that hard substance. At her request Alderman Thomas had Norah arrested and held her to bail on a charge of felonious assault and battery.

NEW YORK, August 24.—Money has a hardening tendency. Call loans 4@5. Banks are calling in loans at 3 per cent. outstanding. Two small stock brokers failed to-day. A great many of the brokers have been weakened financially by the recent depression in the value of stocks, and further failures may be developed hereafter. An injunction was granted to-day by Judge Barnard against the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad in favor of the Milwakee and Minnesota Railroad Company and the bondholders of the old La Crosse Company, &c., &c.

MANUFACTURING ITEMS.

—A four-hundred c... power condensed milk factory is being established at Hawleyville, Conn.

—For many of our items of manufacturing news we are indebted to the Boston Commercial Bulletin.

—Six hundred hands are employed by the Inman shoe-string manufacturing company at Warren, R. I.

—A trunk factory in Syracuse, N. Y., turns out one hundred trunks per day, worth from $15 to $30 a piece.

—Lighthouse, of Rochester, New York, employs a dozen hands and makes four thousand horse-collars per annum.

—The works of the Mystic Woolen Company, at Pistol Point, Conn., are being enlarged and more than doubled in capacity.

—Three thousand rain water filters per annum are manufactured by one establishment in Rochester, New York. They sell from $10 to $20 a piece.

—A grand parade of the American mechanics is to take place at Lancaster, September 11th. It is expected that 5,000 men will participate in the ceremonies.

—Little boys who love "goodies" will be pleased to learn that a company has been formed in New Bedford, with a capital of $250,000, for the manufacture of a substitute for castor oil.

—A large rolling mill and two blast furnaces have been built at a cost of nearly $200,000 at Marquette, Michigan. The buildings are substantially built of stone with iron roofs.

—The Ames Shovel Works, at North Easton, Massachusetts, comprise 13 shops, one which is 700 feet long. They now give employment to 320 hands, and turn out 500 dozen shovels per week.

—The Dunn Edge Tool Company, of West Waterville, Me., are in the hey-day of prosperity. During the past year they turned out 144,000 scythes, besides vast quantities of axes, hay cutters, grass hooks, &c.

—Philadelphia, or rather Germantown, is the great centre of knit woolen goods in this country. Since 1861 this business has increased in value from $1,000,000 to $6,000,000. Most of these goods are made on hand looms.

—A new manufactory of colored roans and linings, colored mats and robes, has recently been started in Rochester, by Loder & Gilber. Although hardly under way yet, they are turning out 12 dozen skins per day, and will soon produce 20 dozen.

—The works of the Hydraulic Woolen Mill Company, at Columbus, Indiana, were established in 1867. The mill is seventy-six by fifty-four feet, and four stories. It has capacity for five sets of machinery and power is furnished by a fifty horse power engine.

—The Rome, New York, Iron and Steel Bloom Company have bought a tract of ten acres, and will at once erect two furnaces and later three more. The works will begin operations about the middle of October, and, when completed, will turn out sixteen to eighteen tons of iron per day.

—The horse nail works at Forge Village, Massachusetts, now employ 60 hands with 50 hammers, which will soon be increased to 75 hands and 60 hammers. They turn out daily 1,600 pounds of nails, and this product will soon be enlarged to 2,000. The company has a paid in capital of $68,000,, und is making a net profit of $1,500 per month.

—Burlington, Iowa, takes pride in one of the biggest flouring mills in the Northwest—the Orchard City Mills, of Putman & Olmstead. It was finished in 1867, at a cost of $90,000. It has 9 run of stone, and can turn out 500 barrels of flour per day. The Hawkeye Woolen Mills, at Burlington, turn out a large amount of jeans, cassimeres, &c., of excellent quality.

—There are nine flour mills in Akron, O., which have a capacity for turning 2,000 barrels per day; one pearl barley mill turning out 100 barrels per day and as much more farina when they will. There are also three oil refineries in operation in the same place, which have a capacity for turning out four car loads each per day, which is gauged at 300 barrels.

—The water power at Mason Village, N. H., has a fall of eighty feet in a distance of as many rods. The principal manufacturing establishments at this point are the mills of the Columbian Manufacturing Company. These mills, together with those owned by the same Company at New Ipswich, contain 375 looms and 14,136 spindles, and turn out 2,500,000 yards of cotton goods annually.

—The new stock of the Wamsutta Cotton Mills, of New Bedford, has been snapped up with great avidity. Of the $1,000,000 new stock over $790,000 has already been taken by the stockholders, who will doubtless take the balance. The new mill will stand directly east of the old one. A brick addition about 30 feet long is being made to the counting room of the old mill.

—There are 11 flouring mills and 18 saw mills in Waupacca county, Wis. The flouring mills manufacture about 7,000 barrels of flour per annum, which is sold outside of the county, besides making all the flour for home consumption. The saw mills cut out about 10,000,000 feet of lumber this season, which is probably a small estimate. The above figures show that Waupacca is not only a lumbering county, but an agricultural and manufacturing one as well.

—The stockholders of the J. Russell Manufacturing company, of Greenfield, Massachusetts, has voted to accept the offer of two mill sites comprising 600 feet on the canal, by the Turner's Falls Water Power Company. They will at once build large stone and brick works. A building company will erect two brick blocks, each 600 feet long. for the use of operatives of the Russell Company. Turner's Falls, Massachusetts, seems destined to become one of the principal manufacturing centres of New England.

—A fashion authority gives the information that the engagement ring should be a solitaire diamond, of which the smallest size, that of a minute pea, can be bought for one hundred and thirty dollars. This, we are told, must be followed by the gift of a locket, one of stone preferable. These are large square onyxes, amethysts, topazes, or turquoises, forming the face of the locket with no apparent setting, the chain attached to a ring at the back of the stone. The last romantic thought is to have the inscripiions set in brilliants on the stone "Fiedelit et Esperance," "Dieu vous garde," or Charles the First's last exclamation, "Remember." The fond lover may purchase a sweet thing of this sort for only one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

—Dexter, the King of the Turf has outdone himself. A few days ago Dexter was on the Fashion course for his daily exercise when some gentleman present desired to see him put to his speed. He was rubbed down and ready in twenty minutes and Messrs. Trumbull and Conway, well known turfmen, kept the time. With a running horse with a rider by his side to incite him he trotted slowly round the first time and then performed the following marvel: The first quarter mile was make in thirty-three and a half seconds, the next in thirty-three seconds, the third in thirty-four seconds, and the mile in the unprecedented time of two minutes and fourteen seconds. A day or two after, on the same track, Dexter trotted a quarter mile in thirty seconds, or at the rate of a mile in two minutes.

—Chicago has a new sensation in the persons of an ancient clergyman and his daughter who have lived in the most extradinary manner for twelve years. The old man is a graduate of Middlebury College and his daughter is an accomplished woman, yet, for twelve years, they have eaten nothing but corn-bread and have lived in perfect seclusion and horrible filth. Recently, they called for aid to a passer-by, who alarmed the neighborhood, and at last the hermitage was invaded; disgusting filth characterized all of their surroundings and the persons of the two were covered with sores and dirt. The daughter who is but twenty-eight years of age says she nas not washed for six years. Although her's is a pitiable condition she will in all probability recover, but her father who is seventy years old is past all hopes.

CATTLE.

There was again a full supply of cattle on sale to-day, the whole number on sale being fully up to the average of the past weeks, and while the market was by no means brisk, it was nevertheless, as good as could have been expected under existing circumstances. Notwithstanding, as we have already stated, there was a full supply, the number of prime fat cattle was small, and as a consequence, this grade of stock was in demand, and those who were fortunate enough to have good cattle, experienced no difficulty in selling, and that, too, at full prices. There was also, a very fair demand for medium butcher's stock and good stock steers, and these grades, although they did not go off like prime fat cattle, sold very well, taking everything into consideration. There were quite a number of foreign buyers in attendance, and had it not been for their timely presence, the market, particularly for common-ish stock, would have been much harder than it was.

As will be seen by reference to report of sales, prime to extra retailing cattle sold at from 7 to 7,75, though the sales at the outside quotations were small. Medium butchers stock sold at from 6 to 6¼, and common to prime stockers at 4 to 5½. There was a fair number of bulls on sale, which we presume would change hands at prices ranging from 2½ to 3½.

The great proportion of the cattle on sale were from Ohio and Pennsylvania, only one drove from Iowa, and so far as we could learn, none from Indiana or Illinois. It is really astonishing the number of cattle that are being brought in every week, from Washington, Green, Butler, and other adjoining counties, and it is said that there are plenty left. In regard to quality, some of the finest cattle on sale to-day, were from Washington County; as a general thing Butler County sends more "scalawags," to market than any other County in Western Pennsylvania; occasionally we hear of some good cattle coming from that County, but it is a rare thing—an exception to the general rule. The following is a pretty full report of the sales.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 57 head Morgan Co. Ohio "scalawags," for Foster, at 4 to 5,75; 9 for Davis at 5.50 to 6.50; 9 for Johns at 4 to 5,50; and 9 for Roster at 4 to 5, Stakely & Bro., sold 32 head of Mercer Co. heifers and steers at 4 to 5; and 9 head from Lawrence Co. at 3 to 5.

R. C. Crum sold 20 head of mixed Butler Co. stock for Wick & Co., to Fiehl at 3,75; and 2 to another party at 4.

Linn sold 20 head of small but fleshy Belmont Co. (Ohio) steers at $60 per head.

L. Rothchilds 22 head Washington Co. steers at 5 to 7,50.

Verner & Co., 32 head Washington Co. steers at 6 to 6,75.

Flinner & Sheitemantel 16 head common Butler county steers and heifers at 4 to 5,50.

Greenwald & Kahn 36 head prime to extra Ohio steers at 7 to 7,75; 27 common to good, from Trumbull county, at 4,75 to 6,25, and 7 for Powers at 5 to 6,25.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. report 34 head mixed stock at 4,35 to 6,25.

Nicholas Carr sold 18 head of Western Reserve stock for Thayer, at 5 to 6,25.

Rothchilds wholesaled 25 head scalwag steers to Moses & Co. at about 4.

James McAllister sold 47 head of Ohio and Pennsylvania cattle, on commission, at 5 to 6.

Hedges & Tayler sold 40 head common Iowa cows and heifers at 4 to 5.

L. & J. Shamberg 32 head of Washington county stock at 5,50 to 8,50—one extra steer, at the outside price.

Scott wholesaled 18 head to Kerwin at $46 per head

The whole number of Cattle reported sold this week reaches 958 head. Now add to this 100 head unsold, and we have 1,058 of Cattle on sale, and we have every reason to believe that there was that number.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

As has been the case for some time past, the supply was again very large, and mostly common in quality, and in poor condition: Prime fat Sheep, of which the supply was light, were in good demand, and sold readily at full prices, while common and inferior were exceedingly dull, with a supply largely excess of the demand. Some two or three droves were taken for shipment, and more would have been taken had it have been that they were not good enough for the eastern markets, no matter how cheap here. As will be seen by reference to sales, good retailing Sheep sold at from $3,50 to $4,50 per head, and some few extra brought 5c per pound. Lambs may be quoted at from $1 to $4 per head, as to quality and condition.

Neely wholesaled 121 head to Deitrich, weighing 10,425, at 3¼.

Garwin & Co. wholesaled 160 head, averaging about 100, to Aull & Myers, at 3¾.

Beeler 90 head at 4c for Sheep, and $1 to $2,50 for Lambs.

Flinner & Sheitemantel 170 at $1 to $2,25 for Sheep, and $1 to $1,50 for Lambs.

Davis & Maggi 156 at $2 to $4,25 for Sheep, at $1 to $4 for Lambs.

Stakely & Bro. 151 at $1 to $2,25 for Lambs, and $2 to $3 for Sheep.

M. Humes 100 at $1,25 to $2,50.

Adam Eckert 214 at $1,50 to $3,50 for Sheep, and $1,12 to $3.37½ for Lambs.

Emmell & Co. 250 at $1,50 to $2,50 for Lambs, and $2,50 to $3 for Sheep.

Seymour & Co. 150, at an average of $1,50 per head; 100 unsold.

Bannon sold 96 Sheep for Campbell at $2,37 to $3.

Phillips & Woddle 100 Sheep and Lambs, at an average of $1,62 per head.

Garwin & Rothchilds 59 Sheep at $1 to $2,50.

Duncan 71 head of Ohio Sheep at $1 to $2,50.

Clark 136 head from Lawrence county, unsold.

Ben. Butler sold 500 head of good Sheep, to be delivered next Saturday to John McAllister, at $2,50 per head.

Wick & Co. 100 Sheep at $1 to $2,25.

Bradley sold 154, at an average of $1,75 for Lambs, and $2,60 for Sheep.

Emery 80 Sheep at $1,60 to $3,25.

McMillan & Kerr 98; sold 10 Sheep at 5c; balance held at 3,40.

Emerick & Co. sold 26 head of extra fat Sheep at 5¼.

HOGS.

There is a slightly improved demand for Hogs, in a retail way, and the demand would be much better were it not for the extravagant prices now prevailing. Butchers do not seem disposed to invest very deeply in Hogs at 10 to 11c, when they can buy Sheep at 3 to 5, and Cattle at 5 to 7,50. It is not probable, however, that these prices (for Hogs) will long be maintained.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 24, 1868.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money has a hardening tendency, with call loans at 4@5 per cent. The banks are calling in outstanding bills at 3 per cent. Two small stock brokers failed to-day and a great many have been weakened by the recent depression in values, and further, an injunction was granted to-day by Judge Barnard against the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad in favor of the Milwaukee in the Minnesota Company, and the boadholders of the old La Crosse Company and creditors. The St. Paul Directors are restrained from paying or consolidating with any other road, or doing any other act as directors. Jas. W. Sweeny is placed as receiver in charge of the Company's assets, and of course he can only take possession of the books and assets here. The St. Paul Company is holding its charter from the State of Wisconsin. Rumor to-day says the Erie Company is to lay a third rail to make the road a narrow guage, so that the Western roads can run to Jersey City. Hints of low rates of freight and fare, and further issues of common stock and of the passage of dividend on preferred stock are afloat, but whether true or false is not yet apparent.

RIVER NEWS.

—The Sallie V. and Mollie Norton are plying the Evansville and Henderson trade in hot competition. Passage down to 50 cents.

—The new cotton is moving lively. On the 17th, at New Orleans, sixthen bales were received by the Governor Allen, five by the Mittie Stevens and three by the Cleona. The Countess on the same day took into Vicksburg three bales.

—Helena Montana, advices say the steamer Success left 12th. Several boats rapids, unable to get up. The Andrew Ackley arrived at Fort Benton on the 16th. The Only Chance, Lucia and Urilda, are at Cow Island. The first Mackinaw boats left Fort Benton on the 17th.

—Says the Cincinnati Gazette: Chas. B. Lewis, editor of a newspaper published some where in Michigan, has commenced suit in the Court of Common Pleas of this county, against the owners of the Magnolia, for injuries sustained by the explosion of that steamer, on which he was a passenger at that time. He says he has been crippled for life, and has suffered much disfigurement besides. He estimates his damages at $30,000.

—The Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company, and outside boats, which have for some time been running in common from St. Louis to New Orleans under the name of the Compromise Line, terminate that arrangement on the 1st September. The outside boats—Bismarck, Great Republic, Mollie Able, Commonwealth and several others, will then form an opposition line, called the Star Line. This will reduce freight and passage, and, it is thought, increase trade.

—The Louisville Journal is responsible for the following: A couple of good fellows hailing from Bath County, Kentucky, were not long since traveling from Maysville to Cincinnati on a steamboat. At dinner Jim got a mouthful of mashed potatoes which was evidently too hot for comfort, for, after rolling the lump from side to sido for a while, he quietly let it drop on the side of his plate. This proceeding set the witnesses of it in a giggle, which was increased to the most uproarious laughter, when Jim, after taking a "cooler,," turned to his partner a dryly remarked: "I say, Joe, many a d—n fool would have swallowed that."

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 145¾.

THE CATTLE disease increases among the cows belonging to dairymen near Cincinnati. No indications of the plague are discovered as yet in this vicinity.

THIS EVENING, the Republicans of the four wards, Nineteenth to the Twenty-second, both inclusive, are to dedicate their new Wigwam, at East Liberty, with addresses from Messrs. MARSHALL, SWEITZER, HOWE, MOORHEAD and others. It will be a splendid meeting.

SAYS a Southern journal before us: "The negroes are somewhat tired of politics, and with starvation staring them in the face, are more disposed to consider their pecuniary condition than their political." We alluded, on Saturday, to the situation of the Southern canvass. The paragraph now quoted is very significant, in that connection.

WE TRUST that the Commissioner of Revenue, in the discharge of his official duties, will enter into no collateral and extra-official compromises, or "arrangements," with other officials at Washington. Whatever powers Congress may have conferred upon him, let him exercise them faithfully, and he will then be acquitted of his responsibilities. If his action be impeded or rendered nugatory by any unlawful opposition, whether from Secretary or President, the country knows how to hold them to a proper accountability.

WHEN GOV. SEYMOUR'S "friends" followed the sentiments of his speech to their logical issue, by the breaking out of the draft-riots, burning an orphan asylum, hanging Federal officers to lamp posts &c., he found it necessary to appear to do something to quell the storm he had raised, by declaring the city in a state of insurrection, and all parties sustained him. Why then should the SEYMOUR Democracy complain if districts in the South, where Union men are being assassinated by dozens, are also declared to be in a state of insurrection? Is this any more in derogation of "the popular will" than it was at New York?

THE REBEL DEMOCRATS, who attended the New York Convention, as delegates were delighted with the cordial reception they received at the hands of their Copperhead brethren of the north. On their return to their constituents they spoke of this in the most enthusiastic terms, and boasted, truthfully no doubt, that they were allowed to have everything their own way, to dictate the terms of the platform, and name the man for the second place on the ticket. Moreover, they were greatly flattered by the marked attentions that were paid them, especially the rebel generals, such as HAMPTON, FORREST, PRESTON, EARLY and others. It was a revival of the good old days of Fire-eater and Doughface, and no wonder they felt hopeful and happy.

But have these poor foolish rebels forgotten that these same doughfaces, who now talk so bravely and promise so largely, are the very same fellows who cowered like whipped spaniels before the wrath of an aroused nation in 1861? And do they not know that if they make more trouble of the same kind they will do the same thing again? In their first attempt to overthrow the government, these northern partners of theirs promised much, but did nothing. What little cowardly attempts they made to give aid and comfort to the enemies of the country only exasperated the loyal men and made them fight the harder. If the rebels are as sagacious as they are supposed to be—and that is not very much—they will hardly rely upon them again to aid them in a fight.

WE HAVE at last an authorized exposition of the meaning of the word "Copperhead", from Democratic authority no less distinguished than the Hon. G. H. PENDLETON, whose, remarks in response to a public reception given to him at Boston a few evenings since, were commenced as follows:

MY FELLOW-CITIZENS— A voice—"D—d old Copperhead.") I think I heard some gentleman speak of Copperheads—you don't know what Copperhead means. (Cries of "Good," and cheers.) It means that Democratic party which is to save liberty to this country, if it is saved at all. (Cheers.)

Remembering that the liberty which the Copperheads, thus defined, would save, is the liberty of Secession and Revolution for the sole purpose of upholding or of restoring Human Slavery, the liberty of Repudiation, for the purpose of destroying the public credit and the national honor, the liberty of undoing all that a free and freedom-loving people have done toward establishing the Personal Liberty and Freedom of all men on the continent—the definition is a good one, and precisely such as one would expect from a "Son of Liberty," a K. G. C. or a K. K. K. Let the next edition of Webster adopt this word, and give the correct authority.

THERE is just now an unusual gathering of distinguished ex-rebel Generals, including Lee, and of civilians, at the Virginia Springs. General Rosecrans is also there, and an impression prevails that the meeting has been arranged to discuss matters of importance. So far as this conference may have political designs, and relate to the "pacification" of the South, the country has no objection to any political meeting for any lawful purpose. But the only "pacification" which is needed at the South, is that all parties and all classes shall loyally submit themselves to the Constitution and laws of the land. Nothing more is desired, and nothing less will satisfy the loyal people everywhere. Such a recommendation comes well from any body of citizens; any other advice, especially when emanating from these gentlemen, will have no weight whatever. The pacification of the entire country can and will be accomplished, in the due course of time, by the legislative and political powers of the nation, when faithfully seconded by a competent and honest Executive—all which the people are now taking steps to secure.

A SOLDIER, who has once bared his bosom to the bullet of the traitor, braved all dangers, undergone the fatigues and tortures of war, withstood the hardships of campaigning, and perilled his own life that his country might live, cannot now join hands with the same enemy who confronted him. And yet Democratic orators have the assurance to invite them to desert their old principles, their old comrades, their camps and their flag, to enlist under the banner of treason and revolution. It would be a sad commentary on the character of the American soldier to say that he fought in ignorance of the principles for which he was fighting, and nothing more charitable can be said of the soldier, who now, in the hour of peace and victory, goes over to the enemy. There will be no such desertion. The Democrats count without their host in addressing their sugar-coated, treasonable arguments to our gallant soldier-citizens, and they are welcome to all the loyal-hearted heroes whom they can convince that the war against the rebellion was an outrage committed in the name of Right and Justice against the Southern rebels.

HAS A WHITE MAN in Pennsylvania the same political rights as in the Carolinas? Ought the latter to have a greater share than the former in the Congressional representation? The old system of representation, which the Democracy desire to restore, gave to the former two and a half times more of Congressional representation than to the white men of the North. Upon a basis taking one hundred thousand population as the ratio of representation, forty thousand whites, owning one hundred thousand negro slaves in the Gulf States, were entitled to a member of Congress, while one hundred thousand white citizens of a Northern State could have no more. The Southerner voted for himself and his slaves too, but the Northerners voted every man for themselves, Which was the most Democratic? What sort of Democracy is it which opposes the removal of this inequality? It is the Democracy of SEYMOUR, BLAIR and the New York Convention. They demand that the negroes shall not vote, but that they shall be counted in and let their late masters vote for them. For that purpose, they oppose the XIVth amendment and talk of nullifying the Constitution in that particular, and the laws of Congress made in accordance therewith. Remember that the Charleston Mercury—good Democratic authority—declares that "if the Democratic party succeeds in the Presidential election, the ratification of the amendment (the fourteenth article of the United States Constitution) will doubtless be treated as a gigantic fraud, and, therefore, void." If that party succeeds, they will restore the old rebel State governments and every Democratic member of Congress will vote full payment for the slaves. Fellow-citizens, are you ready for the question?

THE Republican Convention which renominated Hon. D. J. MORRELL for Congress, from the XVIIth district of this State, adopted also resolutions, two of which concerning the maintenance of the public faith we quote:

Resolved. That to enable the Government to do this, American Labor must be protected against the competition of low priced foreign labor; our Domestic Industry properly encouraged; the Internal Revenue System so adjusted and administered as to meet the interest and gradually pay the principal of the national debt, and if this be done the debt can be paid and the national honor sustained.

Resolved, That the power of Congress to impose terms upon rebellious States before their readmission to the privileges of States in the Union must be maintained, and any attempt by an executive officer to treat the Reconstruction Acts as void will of itself be equivalent to a new rebellion.

A BRILLIANT OVATION.

CARL SCHURZ, the gifted and patriotic representative of the German element of our nation, was welcomed into Allegheny county last night by one of the largest and most brilliant civil ovations ever extended to any public or private citizen in this city. The people turned out in their full might to do him honor; to make him feel that his manly efforts in the cause of Universal Liberty are keenly appreciated by the loyal and patriotic. We felt proud of our German fellow citizens as we looked on the vast multitude assembled at City Hall last night, eagerly listening to the burning eloquence, poured forth in all the beauty of the language of the Fatherland, from the lips of one who has attested his sincerity by sacrifice at the altar of Freedom. They stand now where they have stood either in trial or triumph—cemented together and arrayed as a solid mass to crush the enemies of their country. They fear not to do right, and it would be as easy to swing a mountain from its base as to swerve them from principles founded on Truth, Right and Justice.

The ovation last night was cheering to all Republicans. It demonstrated that Allegheny county has not forgotten the history crowded into the past few years, but stronger in loyalty, she will roll up for GRANT and COLFAX such an overwhelming majority as will secure Pennsylvania for the Union, no matter what may betide the other sections of the State. The enemy's lines were broken last night and disorder and dismay filled the camp. Let the fight be fought out on the same line and the rout will be effectual before the October election, and the same old flag will again float in peace and triumph.

DEMOCRATIC FINANCIERING.

Simpkins sold a lot of property of sundry kinds to Tompkins, for the amount of which he took Tompkins' bond, which was to run a series of years, the interest to be paid semi-annually. Tompkins paid his interest punctually several times in cash, as he had agreed to do; but finally he took it into his head that he was expending too much money in that way, and that it would be much easier to draw his own promissory note, payable, without interest, at some indefinite future period, and give that, each time, to Simpkins, in payment of the interest, and when the bond should mature, it was his intention to pay it off in the same way. In this way, like an honest man, as he flattered himself he was, he would pay off the debt the moment it became due, and then he would be all right. As the promissory notes bore no interest, and as no time was fixed when they should become due and payable, they would give him no trouble. As for Simpkins, why should he trouble himself about him? He was only a "bloated bondholder," and he was resolved that he should have nothing but these notes, and he might do with them what he pleased. He could not collect them anyhow, but he might trade them off, if he saw proper, for what they would bring. Anybody who might get hold of them could say with truth that Tompkins owed him so much money, and if he had business with Tompkins he could get credit for that amount.

Tomkins learned his law from PENDLETON, who is an influential member of the Democratic party, and helped to make its platform. "Them's my principles," cried he to the wild and yelling crowd of his followers, as he explained his method of paying debts.

THE BONDS AND WHAT WE GOT FOR THEM.

We quote the annexed paragraph from the eloquent and powerful speech made by Hon. R. B. Carnahan, at Steubenville, on Saturday last:

It is said that full value was not paid for these bonds? What was given was accepted as full value, and in fact those sold in 1861 and in 1862 were purchased with coin or its equivalent, The war actually began in April, 1861. Until February, 1862, the paper currency was at par with gold. From that period until July, 1862, the premium on gold ranged from one to five per cent. From July 1861 to January 1863, the average premium was 29 per cent., but prices had not yet become inflated, and the paper currency was practically the equivalent of coin.

During these twenty-one months of the war a large portion of the bonds were sold, including the $250,000,000 authorized by the act of 16th of July, 1861, and the $500,000,000 5-20's of February 25th, 1862. All of these were paid for in gold or its practical equivalent. In 1863 the average premium of gold was 48½ per cent. and in 1864-102¼. Of course the loss in discounts to the government was very great, or rather the loss of the citizen was great. But the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1864, authorizing the issue of $200,000,000 of bonds, called the 10-40s, specifically provides for their payment in coin. You will observe that the bonds issued when the "greenbacks" were at the lowest figure, are expressly made payable in coin. Does not this show that the United States intended to preclude any doubt as to how and in what currency the bonds should be paid?

AN EXTRAORDINARY ÆROLITE.

The Nashville Press states that the enormous meteoric body, which fell a few days since near Cheathan's Cross Roads in Tennessee, and buried itself deep in the earth, has been partially uncovered, and will, as soon as it is sufficiently cooled, be taken up for preservation. The account given in the Press is evidently reliable, and affords an authentic description of what is perhaps the largest and most remarkable ærolite ever known. We quote from the description in that journal as follows:

"When we reached a depth of about twenty feet we came to the ærolite, or mass of metal, still hot and covered outside with a slight film or coating of oxide. It is wedge-shaped, the heavy end being upward. We cannot account for this except on the supposition that it was globular as it descended, but the contact with so dense a body as a mass of limestone, while in a soft condition, pushed backwards the mass as it passed through and gave it the cone shape which it has. The ærolite we found to measure about seven feet from the apex to base, and at the greatest circumference about ten feet round. It is specifically very heavy, and the lump cannot weigh less than five or six tons.

SCIENTIFIC SCHOOLS.

The importance of Technical and Scientific instruction has not been altogether overlooked in the American States. The success of the few institutions which have within twenty years been established for the cultivation of an enlightened practical knowledge, is such as to strengthen the desire for a more extended recognition of their usefulness and for the enlargement of the avenues by which American youth may be conducted to the mastery of Operative Science.

The Polytechnical College of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, founded in 1851, had last year 136 attendants. The Rensselear Institute, at Troy, New York, founded in 1823, had 150 pupils. The Sheffield School, at New Haven, founded in 1847, had 57 attendants. The Lawrence School, at Cambridge, founded in 1848, had 75 students. The Chandler School, at Hanover, N. H. founded in 1852, had 48 students. Th, Cooper Union, at New York, founded in 1859, had nearly 1,500 attendants in its various departments. New York has also an Engineering Institute founded in 1862, a School of Mines, at Columbia College, established in 1864, with 33 pupils, and a Scientific Department in the New York University with 31 pupils. There are also Scientific Departments attached to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, the Washington University at St. Louis, Brown University, at Providence, and the New York Free Academy. There are also institutions of this character at Boston and Worcester, Mass; Brooklyn, Franklin and Ithaca, N. Y., and Sawanee, Tenn. Chairs for the same sort of instruction have been endowed in the University of Pennsylvania and in Lehigh University.

We see here the beginnings of what may, within another generation, prove to be a leading branch of popular instruction. The important influence which Technical and Scientific knowledge are destined to exercise, in relation to the material interests of the American people, we have heretofore endeavored to speak of. The statistics given above show that this importance has been, and is increasingly, appreciated by thoughtful men.

"A WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT."

For an example of the mode in which the Southern Democracy occasionally vary their occupation in shooting "Radical niggers," by trying to coax them to become "colored Democrats," we submit the annexed catechism, which has been prepared for the use of the Virginia freedmen by the Richmond Whig, one of the leading Democratic rebel journals of the South. It covers the whole ground, with more than usual fidelity to the truth, and makes very fair reading for the Democrats hereabouts, who believe in "a white man's government." The Whig asks:

Who gave the negroes the right of suffrage in New York? The Democratic party.
Who presided over the Convention which gave this privilege to negroes? Martin Van Buren, a Democrat.
Who afterwards elected Martin Van Buren President of the United States? The Democratic party,
Who married a negro woman and by her had mulatto children? Richard M. Johnson, a good Democrat.
Who elected Richard M. Johnson Vice President of the United States? The Democratic party.
If President Van Buren had died, and Richard M. Johnson had become President who would have become the Democratic mistress of the White House? This negro woman,
Who made the negro a citizen of the State of Maine? The Democratic party.
Who enacted a similar law in Massachusetts? The Democratic party.
Who gave the negro a right to vote in New Hampshire? The Democratic party.
Who permitted every colored person owning $250 in New York to become a voter? A General Assembly purely Democratic.
Who repealed the laws of Ohio which required negroes to give bonds and security before settling in that State? The Democratic party.
Who made mulattoes legal voters in Ohio? A Democratic Supreme Court, of which Reuben Wood was Chief Justice.
What became of Reuben Wood? The Democratic party elected him Governor three times.
Who helped to give free negroes the right to vote in Tennessee under the Constitution of 1797? Gen. Jackson.
Was General Jackson a good Democrat? He generally passed as such.

WORK! WORK!! WORK!!!

Our friends must go to work and keep at work, and then their work will be done in the right way and with the right results. The following suggestions deserve the attention of every Republican:

1. Form a Grant Club at once in every township, with an independent working organization in each election district.
2. Get the name of every Grant and Colfax voter in that district, and have him a member of the Club, if possible.
3. Next, record the name of every other voter in said district, with every one entitled to become or to be made a voter before November 3d.
4. See that every one who will read Republican papers is provided with at least one good one.
5. Make arrangements that will render the polling of an illegal vote in that district morally impossible.
6. Take care that—no matter what may be the weather—every Grant voter in that district shall be at the polls before noon of election day, and shall vote as early as may be.
7. Look out for the undecided or wavering, that they vote for us so far as may be.

Friends! such is the meaning of work. Are you already about it.

THE PEOPLE'S GUIDE.

The Boston Post, which abuses Gen. GRANT heartily now, spoke otherwise of him on the 27th of July, 1867. It then said:

"It will not be simply a National Convention that will control General Grant's nomination, but the national voice. If that demand his nomination, it will be made, and his election rendered certain, independent of all Republican committees. The people—tired of the ultraisms, vacillations, intrigues of hackneyed, unprincipled partisans—may seek a guide to pioneer them out of the wilderness of civil anarchy, who is untainted with the complications, corruptions and hypocrisies of the leaders of the Radicals, and give him the highest civil power."

SUMMER RESORT.

STONEBORO, Pa., August 24, 1868.

DEAR GAZETTE: Having, with my family spent several days at this new candidate for summer visitation, I feel qualified from personal experience to speak advisedly of its claims or—rather to enumerate some of its characteristics and leave your readers to judge for themselves of its claims to favor. Stoneboro is a very small village, comprising the "Lake House," a new and commodious hotel two stories high, with two rectangular wings, spacious piazzas on the east and north sides, also an extensive balcony athwart the north front towards the lake. The lower story is divided into hall, gents and ladies' parlors, office, barber shop, reading room, saloon, billiard rooms, bowling alleys, dining room, kitchen, &c. The second story is divided by halls with sleeping rooms on either side, extending through the entire floor. In the attic are the ball room, bath rooms, &c. The hotel is the chief feature of the village. Contiguous to it is the Station House, with its appurtenances of waiting rooms, ticket, telegraph and postoffice; spacious platform, with board walks, extending to the hotel. There are large and smaller buildings, comprising an extensive saw mill, plaining mill and shingle mill. Also a rickety old school house or shooting gallery for the young idea, in which, on Sundays, a very intelligent and pious miner, or some stray ordained minister, occasionally preaches. Off to the east from the hotel, some two hundred yards, a beautiful grove of grand old sugar trees have escaped the axe of the Vandals. Embowered and half concealed among these trees are the charming residences of Col. Blood, Mr. Haines and one or two other gentleman, officers of the railroad company, I believe.

About a like distance from the hotel, to the south, is to be found the flourishing country store of Mr. Bonner, with some half dozen cozy dwellings, and a short distance further out, on the adjacent hill, are forty or more neat frame houses of one and a half stories, all painted brown, occupied by the employees of the extensive Coal Mining Company, whose works are in the immediate vicinity. This is about the extent of the village, destined hereafter, we doubt not, to compete in business and population with Mercer, its present metropolis and elder sister.

Hardby the village, on the north side, lies the chief natural attraction of this resort, the beautiful and placid "Sandy Lake," covering about a square mile of surface, fed chiefly from springs, of cerulean clearness and great depth. This lake has heretofore yielded large quantities of the finest fish, but recently, owing to a temporary cause, about to be removed, has not rewarded the diligence of the Izaak Walton's who have sought in its deep recesses for the finney prey. The proprietors of the Lake House have erected a spacious secure platform extending from the shore out to the deeper waters, from which visitors daily take their departure to the opposite shores of this miniature Mediterranean, in sailing yacht, row boat or skiff, of which the number and variety is ample. This, it appears to me, is a delightful pastime, especially for invalids; the lake is fringed on three-fourths of its shores by the grand old primative forests now in their most umbrageous garnature of leaf and branch, so that with the village on the one side and the forest and jungle on the other, the visitor can easily imagine himself on the very borders of civilization, with only a little sheet of water to separate the palace from the wigwam.

The Lake House makes no pretensions to the gorgeous magnificence and style of the "Clarendon" or "Congress Hall," at Saratoga, but it is well kept and the table and beds are quite equal to those of the great resorts on the Jersey coast. Major S. T. Kennedy, the host, is a good fellow. I hope, if I shall visit other resorts, I may find his equal. I shall long remember the thoughtful and habitual kindness of himself and excellent wife to me and mine. The charges are $2,50 per day or $12 per week. The place is quiet and orderly, the living good, and the lake and land scenery are varied and picturesque, the air and water pure. The medicinal waters are chalybeate and sulphur.

In another paper I will probably give you some account of the personel of the guests whom I saw at Stoneboro and what I thought of them.

Parties going from Pittsburgh will take the 7:28 A. M. Erie and Pittsburgh cars, and proceed to Jamestown on that road, about ninety miles, where they connect with the train on the Jamestown and Franklin road, and proceed twenty miles to Stoneboro, arriving before three for dinner—or will get a good dinner at Cornwall's, with time to eat it, in Jamestown. K.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

THE BODY RENEWED.

According to Physiologists, the human body is renewed once in seven years. Every day, every hour, every moment, the flesh, the cartilage, bone and muscle of the frame are wasting away, and being imperceptibly replaced by new material. Health depends upon the nature of that material, and whether it shall be pure or diseased, full of vitality and elasticity, or feeble and flaccid, depends mainly upon the action of the stomach. In warm weather the waste of the system is very rapid, and if it is not as rapidly repaired by the great sustaining organ, the consequence is debility, emaciation and decay. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that the stomach be kept in a vigorous condition at this trying season, and the safest, surest and best tonic that can be employed for that purpose is HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This incomparable vegetable stomachic gives unwonted energy to the digestive powers, promotes the conversion of the food into healthful blood, (which is, so to speak, the raw material of all the solid portions of the body,) and thereby puts the system in the best possible state of defence against epidemic or other diseases. The strong require it to keep up their strength; the weak, to re-invigorate them. It consists of the purest of all diffusive stimulants, charged with the juices and extracts of the most genial roots and herbs, and is a permanent restorative—not a mere temporary excitant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the bowels and the liver, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness and general debility.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 24, 1868.

The gold market opened strong this morning at 144¾, an advance of one per cent. of the average quotations of the latter part of the week; the noon quotations were 145¼, firm; afterwards weak at 145; closing strong and excited at 145½ large short contracts are outstanding, uncovered ranging from 144½ to 145½, made on presumption that gold would touch a price approaching the forties a desparate effort will be made by the bull clique to unload on the public the large amounts of gold bought up to 149 to sustain the market and the loss of the banks reserve of three millions during the past week will favor higher quotations, despite the low rate of exchange. The reports of shipments of coin from Europe prove to be small and only intransit to Cuba.

Government bonds although firm are poluting towards lower quotations, especially 1865s old 1862, and the issue of tenforties. Some purchases are made by parties who had sold before July at about 114 are now covering again. There is nothing to sustain the present price but the short contracts.

In stocks lower prices will prevail, although the market may experince violent fluctuations during the next fortnight. The North Western shares are the only ones that have not suffered by the recent general decline; it might prove ruinous, however, to sell the stock without knowing where to get it; the parties who have the control of it might run up the stock to almost anything they please. Erie seems to be on the rise, but if the balance of the market should be sold down, Erie, likewise, would suffer a decline. The weakest stocks are New York Central, Fort Wayne, Cleveland & Pittsburgh, Old Southern and Rock Island are well sustained.

Mining shares are flat again, and Express stocks favor higher prices; the recent decline was too sudden, and the dealings in them being confined to but a few houses, they have the inside track. Adams and Merchants Union are reported cheap at present quotations.

The opening up of the fall business will revive dealings again in these kind of securities. Business is dull here, but money is getting scarcer.

The New York Stock quotations to-day as received by Mr. Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold 145¾; 1881's, 113⅜; 5-20's, 1862, 113¼; do 1864, 108¾; do 1865, 110⅜; do new, 107¾; do 1867, 107; 10-40's, 108¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh 85; Fort Wayne, 106¼; Western Union Telegraph 34; Adams Express, 49; Erie, 48¼; New York Central, 123½; Reading, 90; Michigan Southern, 82½; Chicago & Rock Island, 98¼; Chicago & North Western, 80¾; do Preferred, 80⅝.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 145¼; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 113½; 5-20's, 1862, 113⅜; 5-20's, 1864, 108⅝; 5-20's, 1865, 111⅛; 10-40's, 108¾; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 107⅜; 5-20's, January and July, '67 107⅛; '68, 107¼; June 7-30's, par less ¼; July 7-30's, do ¼; August 118¾; Sept. 118¼ Oct. 118; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central, 103.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 24, 1868.

The market, in a general way, continue dull, and devoid of any new or important features worthy of special notice. Notwithstanding there has been quite a panic in the Chicago Wheat market for several days, during which time prices have declined about 20c per bushel, our mills here continue to take all the Winter Wheat that offers at former prices. Flour is dull, but old is unchanged, and the same is true of choice grades of new. Provisions firm, with a steady business.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand, and we can report regular sales of prime to choice fresh packed at 33 to 36c.

EGGS—In good supply and dull but unchanged at 14 to 15c.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged at 14 to 15c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 16 to 17c for Factory, and 19 to 20c for Sweitzer.

HAY—Is unchanged; sales from country wagons at $20 to $30, as to quality.

GREEN APPLES—Continue dull with a supply largely in excess of the demand; sales at from $2 to $4 per bbl for common to prime.

POTATOES—Countinue to rule steady under the influence of limited receipts, and prices are maintained, ranging from $3,50 to $3,15 per bbl.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat still commands $2,10 to $2,15 for prime to choice Red, notwithstanding the decline at other points. Oats quiet and unchanged at 60 in first hands and 63 to 65, for small lots in store. Corn is still quoted at $1,06 to $1,12, for mixed to prime Yellow. New Rye is in demand at $1,30 to $1,36 with little or none offering. There has been little or nothing done in Barley, as yet and no prices have yet been established; we understand that brewers and malters are willing to contract for No. 1 Spring at $1,75 to $1,80.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80, to the trade, for Allegheny River brands and $2 for small lots in store.

MILL FEED—The mill prices are unchanged, as follows: Screenings $1; Bran $1,10; Shipstuffs $1,30; and Middlings, $2,20.

FLOUR—Choice brands of old Spring Wheat Flour are still held at $10,75 to $11, while Winter Wheat cannot be quoted above $11 to $11,25. New Spring Wheat may be quoted at $9,50 to $10,50, as to quality. The city mills quote as follows: Red Wheat, $10,80, in bbls, and $10,50, in sacks. Rye Flour, $9,25, for old.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is in steady demand and firm, but with the exception of Shoulders, which are a shade higher, prices remain unchanged; we now quote at at 14¼ to 14½ for Shoulders; 16½ to 16¾ for Ribbed and 18½ to 18¾ for Clear Sides; and 22 to 22½ for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 19¾ to 20, for prime kettle rendered: Mess Pork, $30 to $30,50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 24, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market continues dull and panicky, and, compared with Saturday, prices have still further declined. We can report 1,000 bbls, to be delivered within fifteen days, seller's option, at 12½; 1,500 for October, seller, at 12½c, and 1,500 November, same option and price. As will be seen from the above, spot oil cannot fairly be quoted above 12½c, though September, as yet, could hardly be bought below 13 or 12¾c. Teleg ams from Oil City report the market very dull, both there and on the creek, with offers to sell there at $4,75 to $4,80, and on the creek at $4,50.

REFINED—The Refined market is also very dull and panicky, with a drooping tendency, and as is generally the case, on a decline market there are but very few buyers, unless considerably below asking quotations. We can report a line of 2,000-500 each from September to December, on private terms; 500 each September to December, on private terms; 500 each September to December at 32; and 500 for October, at 32. August, is nominal at 31¼ to 31½, and September to March was offered at 31. Private advices from Philadelphia, under date of Saturday, report a very sickly market, and the great proportion of the sales for some days past are reported as having been made to Pittsburgh buyers. Exporters, it is said, are taking hold very sparingly, which is not regarded as a favorable indication at this season of the year.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Farmer John.

[From the Mystic.]

Should you meet farmer John in the city,
You'd call him a country greenhorn,
You might look upon him with pity,
Or perhaps with a feeling of scorn.

His great heavy boots, minus blackning,
His straw hat with wide, ample brim,
With gloves and with necktie both lacking,
And his bronzed face puzzled and grim.

The fops step aside as he passes,
And glance at their dainty, pinched feet,
And lisp their disgust to the lasses
They happen to meet in the street.

O! come from the dust of the city,
Leave palace, and steeple, and dome,
Put by both your scorn and your pity,

'Till you see good farmer John's home.
Far back from the town's noise and bustle,
Where meadows and pastures are wide,
Where leaves on the apple-boughs rustle,
And comfort and pleasure abide.

Where acres with beauty lie teeming,
And promise large produce to bring,
A pleasant white farm-house is gleaming,
And farmer John reigns as its King.

How changed Is his face as he nears it,
From that which he wore in the town;
A broad smile breaks over and clears it
From puzzled expression and frown.

His good wife stands ready to greet him
With a smile that thrills thro' his heart,
And all are so happy to meet him,
Though only a bright day apart.

His deep voice grows sweeter and lower,
As baby lips press his brown cheek;
He is happy, he asks for no more;
He is loved, what more need he seek?

His boys and girls are so merry,
The table so full and so white,
And all is so happy and cheery,
He envies no ruler his might.

O! ye, with your city notions,
There's something more precious and sweet
Than graceful and elegant notions
In walking the close and dusty street.

And farmer John, green as you call him,
So awkward and so coarsely clad,
Has had this great fortune befall him,
And his whole life is joyful and glad.

Cultivation by Hogs.

From a report in the Wisconsin Farmer, of a late discussion by the Oswego Farmers' Club, we clip the following:

Capt. Barnes—I never yet wired or cut a hog's snout. Some ravenous specimens may require it. but by keeping them in the right place, I could always make their digging profitable. When a boy in New England, I knew a man who had a nice smooth bit of meadow, which he would not plow, as the ground was full of stone. It had had a coat of soil washed on from higher land, the points of stone that interfered with the scythe had been broken off, and it was often top-dressed with chips, dirt and ashes. Well, there came two or three dry seasons, the patch became sod-bound, and the white grubs got into it, and it did not bear five hundred pounds of hay to the acre. After haying, the old man turned his hogs into it and they rooted it completely over. Almost every day some one would stop in the road and shout, "Your hogs are rooting your lower meadow all up." "Let 'em root," the old man would answer. In the fall he harrowed it well, and sowed on grass and clover, rolled as soon as frost was out in the spring, and his meadow was as good as ever.

Dea. Osgood—And I have seen pastures that could not be plowed, kept in good order by hogs. When stony pastures get full of brake, they dig after the break roots, and a little grass seed sown on is all that is needed. Then in low, moist pastures they dig for angle worms, and keep the sod loose and prevent moss and brake from coming in. They are the destroyers of all worms that harbor in the ground. But what will you do in our tame grass pastures? They dig after clover roots as well as worms and morning glory, and tear the ground all up.

Capt. Barnes—I give them a turn at my pasture before I break it up; they take out the clover roots and white grubs, and mellow the land. But one year I failed to break up a piece after it had been well rooted over, and it bore more feed the next summer than any other I pastured. I would rather turn hogs on my meadows in the fall than cattle. It is a most wasteful and destructive practice to feed meadow short in the fall, as some men do.

Hop Culture.

The reports generally are favorable in a fair yield in this county and State. We estimate the crop in New York at about 50,000 bales; Wisconsin expects to have 45,000 bbls, other Western States will furnish at least 15,000 bales, and the Eastern and Soushern States 15,000 more—making a total of 125,000 bales. The home demand, with a large barley crop, may call for 95,000 bales—leaving a surplus of 30,000 bales. Shall we have a foreign demand for this surplus? Recent advices lead to the expectation that there will be an export demand though not at high prices The Producers' Price Current of the 8th says:

The advices from England are less favorable than last week from nearly every district; in some places the drought is so severe that the vine makes no progress, and the yield is thought to be seriously affected. Careful London houses refuse to express an opinion as to the yield at present. The drought is also severe in Germany, and the yield will be smaller, from present appearances, than was estimated two weeks ago. From France and the Belgian provinces reports are still highly favorable for a large yield.

We learn from private advices that the price of old hops has advanced in England within the past month.

There are lots of very poor yearlings in this county, in the hands of growers, which are not worth the sacking which holds them. Some lots for which growers—acting on the suggestions and opinions of the Republican—last fall refused 40 to 50 cents, are now selling slowly at 15 to 25 cents.

This year, as last, there will be no early demand for other than first sort hops; and with plenty of old hops at their disposal, brewers will not pay high prices for the best of new hops. Little is yet said about prices for the maturing crop, though dealers in this country are expecting to buy at about 25 to 30 cents, to fill orders.

A letter dated Lake City, Minnesota, says:

"This county is about to become a hop-growing district. Hops grow here in abundance, and of good quality. In Goodhue county there are about one hundred acres to pick this season, and in the State there are several thousand acres. I have twelve acres, and shall gather 1,500 pounds to the acre. We are bound to run Wisconsin out of this business."

A subscriber writes to us from Union, Lake county, Ohio:

"In this county and Ashtabula there will be about six hundred acres of hops picked this season. The prospects are good at this time for a fine crop. The fine is free of lice and looking healthy.

How to Break Steers.

At a meeting of the Westminister, Vt., Farmers' Club, Mr. Horace Goodhue gave the following method of breading steers:

If a steer is very wild, place a snap in his nose and lead him carefully two or three miles before yoking. Then yoke the steers in a well fenced barnyard, and drive them one hour around next the fence. The fence prevents them turning to the right, while the driver keeps them from leaving the fence. Be gentle with them. Repeat this lesson daily until they become somewhat tractable, advance a step at the word of command and understand the utterance "haw," when they may be driven across the middle of the yard and readily taught to "gee." Keep them carefully abreast. After this give them a few lessons by driving in the highway. Then place them to a light cart.

Never overload a pair of steers, and when they become oxen they will draw a great load, thereby making ample compensation for their slowness when compared with horses. Do not put young steers to work in line with oxen; they will make slow travellers thereby. The slow rate of travel which is so justly charged upon oxen is the result of their training, and might be easily guarded against.

Some of the farmers thought that oxen, well trained, of perfect docility, working without a driver in the plough field as well as with one, costing nothing for the harness except the yoke and chains, lasting for years, paying by their growth for their food, not worn out or liable to accident, or becoming a dead loss to the owner, like a horse, but ready to be turned to beef at any time, would perform as much work as a pair of horses, at less expense, and be for all work except road travel, the cheapest team the farmer can use.

Horses in Fly Times.

The fly, insignificant as it is in size and devoid of the power of doing any great harm, is one of the most annoying of the insect tribe. A nuisance to man, the fly is the terror of the horse, whose flesh is made to quiver wherever the foot of one touches him. It is, therefore, an act of humanity to come to the aid of the horse, powerful as he is, against his nimble assailant, the fly. Here is a recipe which is said to be an excellent defense against it. At all events, a trial of it may not involve much expense, nor will it do harm should it prove unavailing as a defense to the horse: "Take two or three small handsfull of walnut leaves, upon which pour two or three quarts of cold water; let it infuse one night, and pour the whole next morning into a kettle and let boil for a quarter of an hour; when cold it will be fit for use. No more is required than to moisten a sponge, and before the horse goes out of the stable, let those parts which are most irritable be smeared over with the liquor, viz: between and upon the ears, neck, flank, etc. Not only the lady or gentleman who rides out for pleasure will derive benefit from the walnut leaves thus prepared, but the coachman, the wagoner, and all others who use horses during the summer months."

Agricultural Jokes.

The Ohio farmer lets off the following:

Large horses are generally most admired by farmers, but farmers are most admired who pony up.

Prosperity is generally based upon knowledge and industry; the swine will always get most that nose most.

Farmers are like fowls; neither will get full crops without industry.

Because a man who attends a flock of sheep is a shepherd, makes it no reason that a man who keeps cows should be a cow-ard.

We like to see a farmer increase the growth of useful plants and shrubs around his home, but do not like to see him use rails, poles, and boards to prop-a-gate with.

Airing Milk—A Desideratum.

Alluding to the newly invented milk agitation now used in many of the cheese factories, the Utica Herald adds: "What really is needed, and it is what we have urged from time to time, is some simple apparatus for airing the milk as well as cooling it before it goes into the can at the milk barn. When such an invention shall have been made and put into general use, we shall begin to manufacture cheese of that pure, delicate flavor which it obtains among some of the Cheddar dairies of England."

THE cattle plague in Illinois is mostly confined to the country between Tolono and Gilman, on the branch of the Illinois Central Railroad. There it rages like an epidemic, although from obtainable figures the loss seems not as great as generally supposed. In four towns 1,500 head of cattle have died of the disease, and the entire loss throughout the State, it is estimated, cannot exceed 3,000. As the average value is $40 to $45 a head, the loss in money is as yet less than $140,000. This loss is more heavily felt, because it falls upon a comparatively small community. The disease is limited by the exclusion of Texas cattle from the State, the native cattle not imparting the contagion.

CURE FOR DIARRHŒA, COLDS AND ACHING OF LIMBS.—Gather from your gardens the Salads now in bloom, the blossoms and leaves; dry and make tea,—drink warm or cold for Diarrhœa—hot on going to bed, for a cold. This is an old and valuable remedy, says our informant.

THE following is a Prussian remedy for the sting of a bee: "Beat an onion on a hard body to extract the juice, to which add a pinch of salt. Apply the mixture to the sting, and the pain and inflammation will cease."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be. IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.
W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.
E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Route for Sale.—A good route in the (old) Fifth and Ninth Wards on this paper can be had by applying at this office by eleven o'clock A. M.

The members of the Hope Fire Company return thanks to Hon. Thos. Williams for valuable public books and documents.

There have been one hundred and twenty-seven cases sent to court from the Pittsburgh Mayor's office since the 22d of July last.

The Weather.—According to the prognostications of "G. A." we are to have rather pleasant weather until the 16th of September.

Mr. George W. Henry was sworn in as one of U. S. Marshal Rowley's Deputies, yesterday, taking the place of G. W. Gillespie, resigned.

Political Stand.—The Republicans of the Second ward, Allegheny, have erected a neat and substantial speakers' stand on the North Common, near the school house.

Alleged Larceny.—Louis Meyers appeared before Alderman Strain, yesterday, and made information charging Charles D. Allen with larceny. Allen was arrested and held for a hearing.

Waived Hearing.—Hively, the man who was charged with an attempted rape on the person of three little girls, an account of which was published some time since, waived a further hearing before the Mayor yesterday and gave bail for court.

Postponed.—The meeting at the Republican Wigwam, in the twenty-first Ward, which was fixed for Thursday evening next, has been postponed until further notice, in consequence of the meeting at East Liberty, Thursday night.

Alleged Aggravated Assault.—Jacob Sheppie made information before Mayor Blackmore yesterday against John Shumater for aggravated assault and battery. Sheppie alleges that Shumater struck and otherwise abused him. A warrant was issued.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—Chas. D. Allen made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, charging Louis Meyers with selling liquor on Sunday. He alleges that he sold whisky on the 26th day of July last, which was the first day of the week. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Irving Institute.—A first class, select classical school for Young Ladies, Bissell's block, Nos. 10, 12 and 14 St. Clair street. For circulare call at the book stores or address the Principals, Mrs. E. A. Smith, 31 Lincoln avenue, Allegheny City, Pa., or Miss M. Markham, 282 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa. TS

Alleged False Pretence.—Robert Peet made information, yesterday, before Mayor Blackmore, against John Rylands for false pretence. Peet alleges that Ryland collected twenty-two dollars and fifty cents in payment for an ice chest by stating that it belonged to him. Rylands was arrested and the matter finally compromised.

Election of Teachers.—The School Board of Moon township met yesterday at School Room No. 4 and elected the following teachers for the ensuing term, viz: No. 1, Wm. Whitmore; No. 2, Jas. Nesbitt; No. 3, Miss Sallie Major; No. 4, Miss Annie Russell; No. 5, Miss Sadie J. McMillin; No. 6, Miss Mattie Bayne; No. 7, Wm. French.

A Move in the Right Direction.—A movement is on foot to establish a Normal Department in the Central High School of this city, for the education of those desiring to become teachers in our public schools. This is a move in the right direction, and if adopted by the Central Board of Education will meet the approbation of all who are interested in the success of our school system.

Harper & Brothers, New York.—Elsewhere will be found a list of valuable works recently issued by these widely known publishers. This mammoth publishing establishment is noted for the excellent class of works issued. Harper & Brothers offer special inducements to wholesale buyers in the trade for some weeks to come, as they do not intend to enter the usual auction trade sales this fall as heretofore.

Temperance Meeting.—The Allegheny Temperance League will meet this evening at half past seven o'clock in the Beaver street Methodist church. An address will be delivered by Rev. A. M. Milligan. Subject—"Is it scriptural to promote to office, either civil, military or ecclesiastical, any who are addicted to intemperate habits or who will not give their decided influence in the behalf of temperance reform?"

Dangerous Sleeping Place.—An old man named Huskin was discovered yesterday morning, about seven o'clock lying on the track of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, in the iron bridge across the Allegheny river. He was very much intoxicated, and could give no information of himself. It is marvellous how he escaped a horrible death as trains were almost constantly passing to and fro over the track where he was found.

Aquatic. — We learn from a reliable source that James Hamill will challenge the winner of the championship race, which takes place over the upper Monongahela course on the 9th of September next, between Henry Coulter and Walter Brown, to row a race of five miles for $2,000 and the championship over the same course, the race to take place within three weeks after acceptance of the challenge. Conditions of the race to be the same as those of the approaching race.

Released on Bail.—John Benhart, the man who is charged with the abduction of Catnerine Hoon, the particulars of which appeared in a former issue of the GAZETTE, had a second hearing before Mayor Blackmore yesterday. In the examination some of the witnesses testified to having seen the girl walking along the Brownsville Road, at 7 o'clock on the morning after Benhart had endeavored to procure her employment. Since that time nothing has been heard from her. Benhart waived a further hearing and was released on his own recognizance.

A Vicious Woman.—Arthur O'Hanlon made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, charging Margaret Dwyer with assault and battery. The parties reside in court off Grant street, in the Fifth ward, and it is alleged by the prosecutor that Saturday evening last he went to the hydrant to draw a bucket of water, whereupon the accused struck him on the head with a water pail. She also threw a bucket of water on him, and made various threats, for which an information for surety of the peace was made. She was arrested and held for a hearing.

Alleged False Pretence.—J. M. Montgomery, with T. C. Jenkins, made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday, charging W. A. Clunens with obtaining goods under false pretence. He alleges that the accused bought flour to the value of $94,50, for which he gave a check or order on McVay & Co, bankers, for $91. The order was presented, but there was no funds in the bank to the credit of the accused. The presumption is that Clunens was mistaken in his bank account. He was arrested and held for a hearing, but will doubtless explain the matter satisfactorily before the hearing takes place.

BRILLIANT OVATION.

Reception of General Carl Schurz.

The Arrangements—Arrival at the Union Depot—At the Monongahela House—Escorted to City Hall—The Meeting—Torchlight Procession—Serenade at the Hotel.

The reception of General Carl Schurz, which took place in this city last evening, was one of the grandest affairs of the campaign. When it was announced that Gen. Schurz would address the German citizens of this place, it was resolved to extend to him a welcome in the way of a reception such as every true American heart feels that he was justly entitled to. To this end the German citizens held a meeting some ten days since and appointed a Committee of Arrangements, the proceedings of which have been previously published. It was decided by the Committee of Arragements to appoint a Committee of Reception to meet the General and escort him to the city, and in accordance therewith Colonel Russel Errett, Dr. Joseph Abel, Josiah King and Maj. G. Schleiter, who constituted the Committee, repaired to Rochester on the morning train, where they awaited the arrival of the train upon which Gen. Schurz was a passenger.

ARRIVAL AT THE UNION DEPOT.

When the train arrived the Committee entered the car where the General was and were introduced to him, after which the train started for this city, arriving at the Union Depot at 4:30 P. M. No formal reception was arranged to take place at the depot, yet the crowd of people which had assembled there was immense. The platform at the west end of the depot was one vast sea of heads, and when the General made his appearance he was received with tremendous cheers. He acknowledged the compliment and was escorted to a carriage which was in waiting, and was conveyed to the Monongahela House. After resting a short time dinner was served and the General then repaired to his room, (No. 12) where he was called upon by a number of our principal German citizens and politicians.

THE ESCORT.

The Second Ward Grant Club had been selected to escort the speaker to City Hall, where the meeting was to take place, and at half-past seven the Club formed on Smithfield street with the right resting on Fourth, under command of Capt. W. B. Cook. There were over one hundred men in line, each carrying a torch, except the file leader, who carried a beautiful transparency with paintings of Grant and Colfax on opposite sides and appropriate inscriptions. In a few moments after the torches were lighted, the crowd began to assemble on Smithfield street, and by the time they were ready to march the street was literally filled with human beings from Fifth street to the Monongahela House. At eight o'clock, headed by the Great Western Band, the escort moved to the Hotel where the General was stopping. He was then conducted to an open carriage, accompanied by Gen. Negley, Dr. Abel and Major Schleiter, and escorted to City Hall. The escort moved by the way of Smithfield, Fourth and Market streets, and all along the line the General was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering.

AT CITY HALL.

City Hall began to fill up as early as seven o'clock, and was densely thronged before the half hour had passed. At half past seven the Great Western band began to play and the warning music brought hurrying into the hall the few for whom there was yet standing room, and even after standing room seemed no longer there, quite a number of judicious squeezers obtained places inside the doors. Good humor characterized the audience from the first, as it is almost sure to do whenever the rich language of the Vaterland prevails. At a quarter past eight the music in the street announced the approach of the hero of the evening, and his appearance on the stage was greeted with uproarious cheers and applause. Dr. Abel called the meeting to order when Mr. H. P. Mueller was called to the Chair and the following list of vice presidents named:

GENERAL SCHURZ'S SPEECH.

Mr. Muellerintroduced the orator of the evening in a most eloquent little address, and then Carl Schurz himself took the stand. To say that the address was eloquent is merely to indulge in superfluous axioms.

He welcomed the few Democrats who were there. He believed that they voted the Democratic ticket honestly and because they believed they were right, but he hoped that what he had to say might induce some of them to change their votes; and they would be sure of a welcome in the Republican party, for there was more joy in it over one sinner that repented than over ninety and nine regulars who always voted right.

Above all things he wanted peace. Slavery and the slave aristocracy were the reasons of the late war, and as these were directly opposed to the great principles of American freedom their destruction was necessarily the result of the war. And now something must be found to take the place of slavery in the South, and that something must be to fill the South with a new society, with the great principles of the Declaration af Independence as a foundation. In Russia the Czar has given freedom to the Serfs, and had done so by merely saying, "I will that they be free;" but in America the Czar does not exist and the people must take his place. In the South many of the whites are still the same as those who brought on the rebellion, the second class of people there are the brave Union men of the South, and a third class are the freedmen.

To which of these classes shall the people give the government of those States? To the people who have worked and fought against the Union and the government, to those whose lives and words prove their intention to erect an aristocracy on the ruins of the republic and make themselves the rulers? Shall these people receive the task of restoration and reconstruction? Surely that would be taking the goat for the gardener. The action of the Southern governments immediately after the close of the war, was here thoroughly and ably reviewed, and the necessity shown for Congress to take the reconstruction in its own hands and to decide to which of the three classes of people the task should be intrusted. And now the people are to decide whether Congress was right in placing the work in the hands of the loyal people, whether their color was white or black, or was Andrew Johnson right in wishing to place it in the hands of the traitor aristocracy? Congress has taken up the principle that free labor is the best and only safe foundation for the State, and yet the Democratic party comes and says all this must be considered as null and void, and if a Democratic President is elected he must send the army with sabre and bayonet to overturn these governments of loyal men and to reinstate the rebels.

If such interference takes place, if the opposition again attempt to resort to force and arms, the young soldiers of Pennsylvania who fought in the late war will know where to find the old muskets, just as quickly as if the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania itself were attacked.

It is a queer argument on the part of the Democracy that the negroes are too stupid and uneducated to vote. To this I agree: the negroes are on the average not as intelligent as white men, but I never knew that the Democrats had ever excluded a man from their party on account of stupidity, and for all I know the Republican party does the same. He thought every voter should be intelligent, and yet he had often gone to the ballot box and voted for the wrong man. This only goes to prove that all are liable to error, but this is no reason why we should say we shall not vote at all for fear of making mistakes. All should vote for whom they think the best, but we must also endeavor always to educate the masses so as always to be coming nearer to the abolition of corruption in politics. Negroes must also be educated and made fit to vote, but he did not believe that there was more stupidity among the negroes than there was in the New York Convention. Some of those present probably remember the battles of Nashville, Petersburg and Richmond, and remember that there the negroes fought bravely, and when they saw them fighting and helping to drive the rebels away, they surely did not attempt to drive these negroes from the field because they were black. As far as the practicability of negro voting is concerned he would like to ask this question: Would the lives of 500,000 brave men not have been spared, and would the thousands of millions which this war has cost, not have been saved if the negro had had a vote in 1861?

There are nine millions of whites in the South and three and a half millions of negroes, and if by giving them the right to vote these three millions of poor negroes will be able to govern the nine millions of whites, then surely such a people deserve to be downtrodden. These Southern whites said that one rebel was able to whip five Northerners, and if this were so, surely each one of them should be able to keep down one third of a negro; but if there are too few whites there for them, we will send them more, we will send them European emigrants and carpet-baggers. The first thing that a Democrat will say to you is that the Republican Government has ruined the country. Can any Democrat present mention a single instance in the history of the world where a war, whether as long as those of Napoleon or short as the recent war in Germany, was not followed by trouble in the business of the country. War must necessarily be followed by financial troubles. Two millions of young men, hard working and hearty, cannot be fed, transported and clothed for four years and still leave the country as rich as it was. And who was the cause of this war but the rebels, or rather the Democrats in the South and the Democrats or Copperheads in the North, and how can a war be carried on without money, and when one needs money and has none he must borrow, and the Democrats under Buchanan took good care to leave no money in the Treasury for them. Neither had the Government credit, for all was doubt and darkness as to the end, and the expenses of keeping up the army were four millions a day. Then these bloated bondholders came and gave their money for the bonds, and if they had not done so the soldiers must have gone empty handed and empty stomached, without powder or arms, and the Government would have been bankrupt.

The General then spoke at length on the subject of bonds and their taxation and handled the question with his usual peculiar ability and with constant interruptions from the applause of the delighted audience. He then with like ability handled the question of the payment of the public debt in greenbacks or gold. He then denied that the bonds are in the hands of the richer men. They are here and in Europe in the hands of the middle classes, and are used in immense quantities in lieu of exchange, and laboring men buy bonds instead of putting their savings in banks; farmers put their money in bonds instead of into stockings as formerly. In Germany these bonds are called the servant girls' bonds, and if this sort of people are bondholders, then surely many of those present are bloated bondholders. All are interested in bonds, just as all are interested in the insurance company in which their property is insured, for with repudiation the government falls, and in the ruins of the government we must all alike be destroyed.

The way in which these two questions of the debt and its payment were handled was received with delight by all and we regret exceedingly our inability to present a translation of the whole wonderful oration to our readers.

Gen. Schurz then wound up with a stirring appeal to his countrymen by birth and by adoption to avoid looking at the small obstructions in their way, but to look ever forward to the great end, justice and right, as the sailor in going to the mast-head, looks towards his goal and lets his feet find for themselves the cross-ropes to stand upon. Let no man work against his conscience because his friends vote wrong; let no petty differences in home politics be allowed to affect him; think not of the men who may not be as you would have them, but of the great principles of your party. It was this attention to petty affairs and petty ambition and pride that had for so many years kept their beloved Germany from taking that place in Europe which its position and size demanded. Every German had wanted a united Fatherland, but the Frankforter wanted a Frankfort Germany, and the Wurtemberger a Wurtemberg Germany, until at last this great new Kingdom had arisen and the greatness of one man had united and now held together the various portions of Germany, and just so this great Republican party should, with Grant at its head, unite and hold together the adopted Fatherland. "Let us have peace" is our motto. The Democrats say that we can have no peace until we reconstruct the country on principles in which the Southerners will heartily join. But General Lee, the haughty, aristocratic Southerner, did not believe we could have peace on any but southern terms, and yet he had agreed to those terms proposed at Appomatox by the simple tanner, Grant.

At the close of the masterly oration unbounded enthusiasm reigned for a while supreme in City Hall, and shout after shout went up from the throng, which at length dispersed with six rousing, soul stirring cheers for General Carl Schurz, the hero insurrectionist of '48, the hero General of the late war, and the fearless patriot and orator of the campaigns of '60 and '68.

THE TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

At the close of the address Gen. Schurz was conducted from the Hall by the rear entrance, where carriages were in waiting for himself and the Committee. After he was seated, the procession formed in the following order:

A squad of the City Police, fifty in number, commanded by Lieutenants M'Coy and M'Clung.

DR. F. HARDTMEYER, CHIEF MARSHAL.

The German Turners of Pittsburgh, three hundred and fifty strong, preceded by their singers and a brass band.

Carriages containing General Schurz and the Committee of Reception.

COLONEL JOSEPH BROWN, MARSHAL OF THE GRANT CLUBS.

The Grant Club of the First ward, Allegheny, one hundred men with torches and transparencies, and commanded by Capt Harry C. Campbell, preceded by Schmidt's Band.

Grant and Colfax Clubs of the Second and Third wards, Allegheny, numbering one hundred and seventy-five men, with torches and transparencies, commanded by S. D. Hedger.

Grant and Colfax Club of the Fifth ward, Allegheny, numbering one hundred and twenty-five men, with Chinese lanterns and tranparencies, under the command of Captain Henry Paulus, headed by a martial band.

Delegation from Birmingham, numbering two hundred and fifty men, with torches, under the Marshalship of Captain Martin Schaefer, assisted by Captain John Zeh, Fred. Albright, William Weber and Duncan McClain.

Bayardstown Grant Club, numbering fifty men, with Chinese lanterns and transparencies, commanded by Capt. Joseph Irwin and preceded by a band of martial music.

Third and Fifth ward Grant Clubs, numbering one hundred men, with torches and transparencies.

Sixth ward Grant Club, one hundred men, with torches and transparencies.

First ward Grant Club, one hundred and fifty men, with torches and four transparencies, commanded by Capt. Perkins, assisted by Capt. McLaughlin and Capt. John Siephus.

Seventh and Eighth Wards Grant Club, one hundred men, with torches and transparencies, commanded by Major Kilgore, assisted by Ed. Brush, James Patterson and William Shore. This club was preceded by an excellent glee club in a wagon, drawn by four spirited horses.

Second Ward Grant Club, one hundred men with torches, banners and transparencies, T. W. Davis, Marshal, and Captain W. B. Cook commander. This club was preceded by the Great Western band.

The Central Tanners Club of Allegheny county, numbering one hundred and fifty men, with torches and transparencies, commanded by W. O. Moreland, W. R. Ford, Marshals, headed by Julius Moore's band.

Citizens on foot and in carriages brought up the rear.

The Tanners formed on the north side of the Market. The Allegheny Clubs and the delegates from Birmingham formed on Market street with the right resting on the Diamond, and the city Grant Clubs and Tanners Club formed on Fourth street with the right resting on Market street. From the time the Clubs began to arrive, which was a few minutes after nine o'clock, until the procession moved, which was not until half past ten o'clock, the Diamond and Market street from Liberty to Third street was one compact mass of human beings and the sidewalks were lined with people along the entire line of procession.

At half past ten the procession moved in order marching down Market street to Liberty, thence by St. Clair street to Penn, along Penn to Wayne, thence to Liberty, down Liberty to Smithfield and down Smithfield to the Monongahela House.

The most intense enthusiasm prevailed along the route of procession. Houses were brilliantly illuminated and tastefully decorated withflags, Chinese lanterns, and beautiful transparencies with appropriate inscriptions. The display of fireworks at different points on the route while the procession was passing was truly grand. The display at the corner of Penn and St. Clair streets was a most magnificent one, as was also that at Liberty and Smithfield, and at Fifth and Smithfield. The inscriptions on the transparencies were all good, but owing to the great number of them we are compelled to omit them from our report. Those participating in the procession conducted themselves in a very orderly manner, and if we omit the cowardly annoyances of a few ruffianly blackguards, who, while the procession was forming, amused themselves by throwing stones at some of the transparencies, and the interruption to one of the clubs on Fifth street by a drunken loafer, the whole affair passed off without any difficulty. The procession was over a mile in length, and the display made was decidedly the most brilliant that has taken place in the city since the campaign of 1866.

AT THE MONGAHELA HOUSE.

The Monongahela House was a blaze of light, and over the Smithfield entrance was erected an arch of gas pipe on which sparkled thousands of jets forming the names of the people's candidates, GRANT and COLFAX. When the procession arrived there had assembled on Smithfield street fully two thousand persons, who were being entertained by the Glee Club of the Second ward. As the carriage containing the illustrious guest arrived the wildest cheering prevailed, a compliment acknowledged by Mr. Schurz with uncovered head. The storm of applause was immense when he was introduced to the crowd by Dr. Joseph Abel. After quiet was restored Gen. Schurz spoke as follows:

MY FELLOW CITIZENS: It will be impossible for me to convey to you in appropriate terms my profound thanks for this brilliant ovation. Having just spoken at great length to my German fellow citizens at the City Hall, I will, therefore, have to confine myself to a simple expression of deep gratitude. I have just come from the West, where I have been doing some little work for our candidates in Illinois and Missouri, and I can assure my friends here to-night that the Republicans are up and doing in the glorious valley of the Mississippi. [Cheers.] I desire to say, however, that the brunt of the conflict is here with you in Pennsylvania; for it is an old saying, "as Pennsylvania goes, so goes the Union." [Cheers, and cries of "we'll make it go right this time," etc.) The Democrats are loudly boasting that they are going to carry Pennsylvania. Will you permit them to do so? (Cries "no, no, never.") They in the western States have been laboring under a misapprehension; but after such a brilliant turn out of the masses as I have seen to-night, I can with truth say to them that the destinies of the people are safe in the keeping of your State. With you rests the responsibility of the conflict and to you will belong the honor of the victory, and if you give us a rousing majority on the 13th day of next October—there the speaker was interrupted by a rowdy Seymour man in the crowd shouting for his favorite, causing considerable confusion.) The speaker resumed: Never mind, gentlemen, that noise is nothing more than a simple pressure of good feeling. [Cheers and laughter.] As I am saying, give us a good rousing majority in October, and when the news goes forth to the people, the whole Union will respond to the echo. The Democrats say the people want a change in the administration. Yes, they do—from the present administration; from a man who has dishonored his position to that man who in the hour of need gave the country a stout heart, who has no will against that of the people, and whose motto is, "Let us have peace." (Cheers.) We want a change from Andrew Johnson to General Ulysses S. Grant. (Prolonged cheers.) I will now bid you good night, my fellow-citizens. (Cries of "go on," "go on.") I would be glad to go on, but you must consider that I have appointments to speak every night between this and the 13th of October, and must take care of my voice to make it useful. Before I withdraw, however, I will propose that we give three rousing cheers for General U. S. Grant and Schuyler Colfax.

We need not say that the cheers were given with a hearty good will. The speaker retired amidst the loudest applause. The various Glee Clubs in attendance then entertained the vast audience with several patriotic campaign songs, after which the meeting dispersed.

Alleged Reckless Driving.

Mitchell L. Malone made information, yesterday, against James White and Patrick Ward for furious and reckless driving. Malone alleges that he was coming down Pennsylvania avenue in a buggy, and that when near Pride street he met the defendants coming up, driving two horses attached to a carrriage at a furious gallop. Coming in contact with the buggy it was overturned and the occupants thrown out. The accused were arrested and held to bail for a further hearing. Malone also made information before the same magistrate against the owner of the vehicle, Daniel Mienean, who was arrested and gave bail for a further hearing.

Another Bawdy House Case.

The crusade against houses of ill repute is still kept alive, but whether with a view to a reformation in the morals in this city of wickedness, or for the less laudable purpose of levying black mail, we do not pretend to say. There are doubtless cases in which the welfare of the public prompts the prosecution, or, if not for the public weal, the peace and comfort of the private prosecutor, who is a part of the public, and hence entitled to protection from annoyances resulting from the maintaining of a house of ill fame in any community, at the hands of the law. On the other hand, there is no doubt whatever that in many instances the prosecutions are made for the purpsse of blackmailing not only the keepers of the house, but all those who are willing to pay rather than have their names used in connection with such affairs. The greatest evidence of this latter fact is the character of many of the prosecutors, who in some instances are themselves engaged in the same business.

The latest case is that of Mary Brown, who makes information before Alderman Strain, charging Sallie White, "Gib" Miller and others, with maintaining a bawdy house on Liberty street in the Ninth ward. The accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Settled at Last.

The long disputed question with the sewing machine fraternity as to which is the best machine, has at last been definitely disposed of and set at rest by the unexpected appearance among them of that wonderful family machine known as the American Combination Button Hole and Sewing Machine. It at once carried off the palm without any ceremony about it, and left its competitors the question to settle among themselves as to which is the next best. In this secondary question the public will feel but little interest so long as they can be supplied with the latest and best and also the cheapest in the market. Chas. C. Balsley is the agent for this splendid machine and will be pleased to exhibit it to all who will call at the rooms, corner of Fifth and Market streets, second floor, over H Richardson & Co.'s jewelry store. No lady should fail to examine them.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

The frequent inquiry is made as to whether Dr. Harris' cramp cure and summer cordial are the same thing. We reply that they are two separate preparations of wonderful curative abilities for cramp, cholera, vomiting and similar complaints, although the latter is intended for children and infants and the former for adults. Those medicines are destined to become popular in all sections of the country.

In noticing the elaborate floral decorations of the Turners' Hall, preparatory to the occasion of the Sængerfest societies, we improperly credited the work to Elliot & Sons instead of Capt. Elliot, who is not connected with the firm.

GENUINE

GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,

MANUFACTURED BY

PETER SQUIRE, 277 Oxford street' London.

This Soap has been, by a peculiar process, free from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest Soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (4 per cent). It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin. On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common Soaps for delicate skins it is the only Soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins, where the irritation produced by ordinary Soaps causes so much inconvenience. It is the most agreeable Shaving Soap that can be used, leaving the skin soft and comfortable. The Soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface and the genuine will be distinguished by the sweet taste. Agent,
